GOD SAVE THE QUEEN.

The N. W. T. Governorship

The report that C. H. Macintosh, M.P. of Ottawa had been appointed as Lieut-Governor of the North West turns out to be entirely unfounded. The appointment has not been made and will not be until the return of the Premier from his labors in Paris on the Behring Sea arbitration.
The decided stand for a thorough northwest man for the position which with out exception the territorial newspapers and their contributors must be granted to indicate that none other will be acceptable to the people. The unanimity of the Press in this regard has been in one or two instances only qualified by the comment "that if an outsider is appointed Mr.
Macintosh would be acceptable." It is impossible to see unless it be a case of "rising sun worship" how such conclusions are reached. In the name of common sense what services to this country or to its party has that gentleman performed? In comparison to Mr. Macdowall or many others who could be mentioned.
Public opinion has been expressed respecting this subject through the channels afforded by the Press in other ways - Direct communication to the Ottawa authorities by northwest public men to such a large extent that it will greatly lessen support to the government if when the time comes for a change - as it will on July 1st this year - Lieut.-Governor some of the names of Northwest men submitted and supported by residents of the country is not chosen to fill the gubernatorial chair. There is no doubt but that the existing unanimity of opinion regarding the justness of appointing a Northwest man to the position will exercise a powerful influence with the Dominion Government when considering and making the appointment. The Government will not be slow to recognize in the suggestions made and the earnestness with which these have been set forth, that "outsiders" need not apply. The most moderate and natural demand has been insisted upon throughout the length and breadth of these Territories and it cannot with justice be ignored. It is now upwards of a quarter of a century since this country became a part of confederated Canada, and if in that time men sufficiently developed and fitted for the position of Lieut.-Governor cannot be found, the fact would speak badly for the development and advancement of the country, but it is otherwise that there are good men available, and there is not the shadow of an excuse for the appointment of an outsider. In the earlier days from the nature of the country and the presence of but few men with experience in public life and with but scant desire on the part of those who were here, to make the necessary sacrifices of time and the golden chances of making money - and for other reasons - men for public positions in the North West were scarce than at present and their importation was absolutely necessary. That scarcity does not now exist as is pretty well known and perhaps none are better aware of this than the Dominion Government. Governor Laird came from Prince Edward Island, Mr. Dewdney was brought from the adjoining Province of British Columbia and at the time of his appointment as Lieut.-Governor he could not be called a North West man, for during his few previous years of residence in the country he served as a Government employee. Our third and present Lieut-Governor, Hon. Joseph Royal, though for many years a resident of Manitoba and consequently more in touch with the North West and its affairs was a Manitobian. Each of the Governors has left a creditable record and their conduct of affairs has justified their appointments.
But times have changed the country, and the system previously in vogue must change if the wishes of the people are to be considered. The once admitted necessity of sending eastern men to fill Government positions in the Territories exists no longer and the system statement of the is with great reasonableness requested and expected by the people who are most directly concerned. It would be surprising indeed to those who have full faith in the desire of the present Government to support the wishes and work for the welfare of the people of this country in all matters in this case a contrary rule were observed, and the general belief appears now to be that no attempt will be made to persuade us to receive or compel us to accept any voluntary exile from his native Province. Such action would not increase attachment to or confidence in the actors, nor would be regarded as a token of friendship to a people whose past favors by way of support, etc. to the Governments have not by any means been insufficient or valueless. Although the people are in perfect accord that the new Lieut. Governor shall be a Northwest quite naturally some confusion of ideas as to the man best adapted to the position or perhaps more correctly speaking as to which of several named has the most valid claims for recognition by the government. The claims of at least half a dozen men have been strongly urged through the Press - some doubtless in the full conviction of their justness, others it would appear a seizing upon a favorable opportunity to gain notoriety and be reputed as public men. Mr. Macdowall, the member for Saskatchewan in the Dominion House of Commons, most certainly seems to have the weight of public opinion in his favor and it is generally concluded that he will receive the appointment. Providing of course that the present occupant of Government House is not given an extension of time, in the position, and of course among other provisions that a Northwest man will be chosen and that the government will recognize and reward long service and merit in making the appointment. Mr.

Macdowall has been described by a correspondent of the Winnipeg Free Press - "As being essentially a gentleman in manner and a leading and well known business man of the Territories and would doubtless should it be offered to him and he accepted it fill the gubernatorial chair with grace and credit to himself and to the country and there would probably be found few dissenting voices to his receiving the honor." All which will be readily assented to by those acquainted with Saskatchewan's member. But these qualifications are necessary in themselves for the occupancy of any Government House are not all that a Lieut.-Governor of the Northwest Territories should possess. His dealings are more with the people themselves than are those of provincial Lieut. Governors and there are many duties to be performed which require experience in the country and familiarity with its affairs to properly get a man for this position. Mr.
Macdowall's friends urge that besides being "essentially a gentleman" etc. he has been essentially a leading public man of the Territories for many years. Having at two terms in the old North West Council, since which he has twice been elected as member for this important district in the House of Commons. He has therefore an experience of Northwest affairs ever since Northwest affairs amounted to anything, a similar or more comprehensive experience than few if any other public men in the Territories can justly lay claim to. Accurate knowledge of past events in the country is a necessary for a Northwest Lieut.-Governor to have. This Mr. Macdowall possesses and he has the energy, push and other requirements necessary for the position. Mr.
Davis has gracefully retired from any apparent ambition to shine as the only Bachelor Lieut.-Governor in Canada.
Thos. McKay, M.L.A., whose name has been mentioned for the position and some others who have been named are also supporting Mr. Macdowall. So that although it is known that the Government has not yet considered the question of appointing successors to Hon. Mr.
Royal, when it does so, it is generally believed that D. H. Macdowall, M.P., for Saskatchewan will be the next Lieut-Governor of the Territories.

For the past week seeding has been going on vigorously. Where a fortnight ago snow was lying on the fields, grain has since been sown. Two weeks ago Tom McFadden, Colleton, put in ten acres of wheat, and already it is beginning to show above the ground. A. The Edmonton correspondent of the Winnipeg Tribune says: The spring is unusually late here, but in advance of what you have. An importation here from the south is busy deyring our fair and in the U. S. papers. Amongst other she remarks that we have to "blanket our wheat" to keep it from freezing when growing. She declares that she will depart as soon as the "bab-o-links" arrive.

THE COSMOPOLITAN.

A New York daily paper, taking up the idea conveyed in Flammario's existing novel, "Omaga: The Last Days of the World," has interviewed a number of the leading men in all professions as to what they would do if science were to predict to-morrow that the end of the world would arrive within the next thirty days. The answers are various and curious, and heighten the interest which is felt in the second part of Flammario's great novel which appears in the May Cosmopolitan. It is a question which everyone will find interesting to ask himself: What would you do if within six weeks the end of the world were certain? Probably no novel which has ever appeared in an American magazine has been more elaborately illustrated by more distinguished artists: Laurens, Sautier, Vogel, Meaulle, Rochegrosse, Gerrardin and Chovin all contribute to the explanation of the text.

A clever story of another kind is that of the new English novelist, G. Herbert Parker, in the same number. "American Society in Paris" is an article of another kind, but one which will interest all who have had occasion to make even a short residence in the French capital. The Cosmopolitan scores a success in producing in its May number, almost simultaneously with the daily press, an elaborate description of Prof. or Gray's Marvellous invention, the Telatograph, which reproduces the handwriting, or the work of an artist, simultaneously, thousands of miles distant from where the writer or artist is sitting. Mr. Howell's purpose in "The Traveller from Alturia," is, month by month, becoming more evident, and is now receiving wide attention at the hands of the critics all over the world.

MELFORT.

Melfort Creek is at a higher stage of water than it has been for many years, several bridges which the settlers had constructed last season being swept away. Two good bridges are urgently needed one in T 41 R 18 and one in T 45 R 18 up to the present time none of the N. W. grant for Kinstino has been expended at Melfort and we look for a large share this season.

Parties of immigrants are arriving daily had most of them seem well satisfied with the country and are busy locating.

Seeding has been on for the last week the average will be double last year at least.

We were glad to meet Mr. B. Bush from South Dakota who located last season in T 45 R 18 and sympathize with him, he having lost his brother and two children, and had a great deal of his crop burnt up last December a gasoline can exploding being the cause of the fire.

Mr. Laury's engine is on the road, but unfortunately he had no logs taken out last winter so will do little or no cutting this season.

1892, "The Cream of the Havana Crop." "La Cadena" and "La Flora" brands of cigars are undoubtedly superior in quality and considerably lower in price than any brand imported. Prejudiced smokers will not admit this to be the case. The connoisseur knows it. S. Davis & Sons Montreal.

LORD KILCOURSE SPEAKS.

We desire to call attention to the Great Winter Competition of 1893, which is now being conducted by the Canadian Agricultural and Home Journal, published at Peterborough, Canada. The Agriculturalist has gained a reputation in the past for fair dealing in connection with these competitions, and the future will be no exception of the rule. Those who care to compete can do so free of charge. All they have to do is to prepare a list of English words made from the letters in the two words "Columbian Exposition." The rules are that no letter can be used oftener than it appears in the two words above named, or can the names of persons or places be used. Foreign words are also barred. The leading prizes are: 1st, $2,500; 2nd, $1,000; 3rd, $500; 4th, $250; 5th, $100; besides panoply, organs, gold watches, 5,000 elegant silver tea services, etc., making a total of over 10,000 splendid prizes. All who send in 100 correct words will receive a special prize. Take a few sheets of paper, prepare a list of words made up from the letters in the two words above quoted, and enclose $1 for six months subscription to one of the choicest and best publications on the continent, and you will have a really first class magazine to read, and may secure $2,500 in gold into the bargain. The Agriculturalist always carries out its promises to the very letter, as the following, from Lord Kilcourse, the Governor General's Secretary, will testify.

Government House,
Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 16th, 1893.

Sir,—It will give me great pleasure to recommend my friends to enter your competition. I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,
